Stevenson's Goodwill Tour Has Good Start

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's special presidential mission to South America appeared today to have gotten off to a good start.

As Stevenson began his second day of private talks with President Romulo Betancourt and other Venezuelan officials, U.S. officials were reported highly pleased by the cordiality of his reception.

NEWSROOM NOTES—Dixon Public Library would like some help in filling out its collection of Dixon High School yearbooks. If you have any of the Dixonians for the years listed below and would be willing to donate them to the library, please call the library.

Dixonians needed are any before 1914 plus the following editions: 1915, 1916, 1917, 1919, 1929, 1935, 1934, 1941, 1948, 1951 and 1957.

A complete series of the books would be a valuable reference collection for the library and the community. Can you help?

Asa "Bub" Piper, president of the Dixon Jaycees, reports that the Jaycees have nearly reached their goal for this year's Prom Jubilee budget. Piper said recent contributions amount to $140, and only $172 of the $600 needed for this year's Jubilee remained uncollected.

Piper said that the budget for this year's Jubilee amounts to roughly three times the totals spent on the evening of entertainment for high school juniors and seniors as was necessary in 1958 and 1959.

The organization spent $325 last year for the event, said Piper, but was going to a larger budget this year to provide more and better entertainment for the students.

Anyone wishing to donate to the Jubilee can leave donations at the Dixon National Bank with Don Lovett or at The Telegraph newsroom.

LAST CALL—There still is room for a few more passengers on the Dixon Chamber of Commerce farmer-businessman baseball tour to Chicago Tuesday. Contact Robert Rayner, Chamber executive manager.

The group will leave the Chamber office at 8:45 a.m. and will tour grain elevators of the Chicago Port Authority before attending the White Sox-Tiger night game.

In our jet-speed age, the University of Illinois has come up with a plan whereby seniors graduating from high school now may accelerate their college programs by attending a new 12-week summer session.

If the student attends three such summer terms, he will have the equivalent of a full academic year. The student then would receive his college diploma in three calendar years instead of four.

Registration will be held June 23 at the Chicago Undergraduate Division and June 24 at the Urbana-Champaign campus. Final exams are scheduled early in September.

The new term will not effect the usual eight-week summer session at the University.

Gable's Son To Be Baptized

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—John Clark Gable, the baby son of the late king of the movies never saw, will be baptized a Roman Catholic next Sunday.

The baby will be christened in a Don Loper gown at St. Cyril's church in suburban Encino.

Mrs. Gable, born a Catholic but later estranged through divorce and remarriage, has been attending St. Cyril's since the death of Gable from a heart attack last Nov. 16. The son, Gable's first offspring, was born March 20.

Loper, famed designer of movie-famous fashions, was a longtime friend of Clark and his beautiful blonde widow, Kay.

ADLAI STEVENSON

The chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, here as the personal representative of President Kennedy, got a warm welcome at the airport Sunday from a friendly crowd of 400 to 500.

No Demonstrations—Heavily armed national guardsmen and police were there as routine precaution, but there were no hostile demonstrations at the airport or along the route through downtown Caracas, where former Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran into violent anti-American demonstrations in 1958.

Stevenson held a long private talk with Betancourt Sunday night at the president's home. They appeared in high good spirits as they posed for photographers.

Talk and Dinner

They talked for two hours before sitting down to dinner. Also taking part in the talks were Venezuelan Foreign Minister Marcos Falcon Briceno, U.S. Ambassador Theodore Moscoso and Lincoln Gordon, who heads Kennedy's task force on Latin American economic assistance.

Stevenson's program today included a luncheon meeting with Betancourt and talks with the foreign minister and the minister of finances. He leaves Tuesday for Buenos Aires, the next stop on his 18-day tour of 10 nations.

In a news conference upon arrival, the U.S. envoy placed strong emphasis on improved economic and social conditions as the main purpose of his trip. He denied that he had come to South America to try to forge an alliance against Fidel Castro's Cuban regime but said he was ready to discuss any matters any chief of state might bring up.

Falls Injure Two Youths At Pines

POLO — A 16-year-old Elmhurst girl was rescued by two Polo ambulance drivers Saturday in White Pines Park after she fell 25 feet down a steep embankment, suffering a back injury, in one of two accidents at the park.

Sue Pederson, 16, Elmhurst, is in good condition today in War-moits Clinic, Oregon, with a compression fracture of three vertebrae.

Miss Pederson, on an outing with members of York High School Band, was rescued by Don Seidel and Russell Brown, Polo ambulance drivers, who waded a creek carrying equipment including a stretcher and scaled a sheer 15-foot wall to reach her as she lay helplessly on a rocky ledge above the creek bed.

Lost Footing

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pederson, apparently lost her footing while walking along a park trail which parallels the cliff.

She was conscious when Brown and Seidel reached the rock ledge and managed to roll her onto a stretcher. Fellow band members assisted with hauling her down from the ledge.

In another accident at the state park, located about six miles east of Polo, Bruce Larson, 13, Chicago, suffered a fractured wrist when he fell while walking on a trail bordering Pine Creek.

The boy, who was picnicking with a Boy Scout group, was treated and released from War-moits Clinic.

Seniors Attend Baccalaureate

"Give yourself a chance to change and grow" urged Rev. Malcomb Ludy, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, of the seniors of Dixon High School at Baccalaureate Services held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Lancaster Gymnasium.

The Rev. Mr. Ludy asked the students, "Is it society that is not giving you the chance to change and grow, or is it you, yourselves, that are not giving yourselves the chance to change and grow?"

"People hinder themselves to change and grow," he said. "Instead of nurturing ourselves, we barricade ourselves against the good. . . and evade the challenges of the chance for change and growth."

"Sky Is Limit"

"The sky is the limit, if you give yourself the chance to grow," offered the Rev. Mr. Ludy. "Your real worth is where you are today compared to where you were yesterday," he told the students.

In urging the students to grow, the Rev. Mr. Ludy offered three ways in which the students could give himself the chance.

"Accept responsibility and challenge," he urged. "Set goals for yourself" and finally, "Govern yourself by a higher individual."

"Challenge is opportunity," he said.

A scripture reading was given by the Rev. H. O. Krell, pastor of the Grace EUB Church, a prayer offered by the Rev. William Oaks, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Benediction pronounced by the Rev. Maurice Byers, pastor of the Christian Church.

"America" was sung by the entire audience.

Mom Solves Sons Problem

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A mother who has sons graduating at two service academies but won't attend either graduation, leaves here today for her home in Ohio.

Jeanette Stackhouse of Norwood, Ohio, spent several days here with her son, Charles, 21, who will be graduated from the Naval Academy Wednesday. Last week she had spent several days with another son, Bill, 22, who will be graduated from the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., also on Wednesday.

Rather than show partiality by being at one exercise and not the other, Mrs. Stackhouse decided not to attend either.

Western Strategy Is Weighed

Kennedy to Report To Nation Tuesday; Khrushchev Goes Home

LONDON (AP)—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today weighed Western strategy in the wake of the Vienna conference, and announced they see eye to eye in pursuing common policies throughout the world.

Kennedy at the same time was beginning to shape up a half-hour report he will make to the people of the United States Tuesday night by radio and television.

Today the President met for four hours with Macmillan, at lunch and in private conversation. This was the windup of a sort of four-power summit conference by stages. First Kennedy spent three days with President Charles de Gaulle in Paris, then he was with Soviet Premier Khrushchev for two days' conversations in Vienna. That meeting ended Sunday night with a statement raising hopes of peace in Laos but reporting little concrete progress in other areas.

Statement

A statement issued after the conference said the two leaders noted with satisfaction the Vienna agreement for an effective ceasefire in Laos. They expressed belief this should lead to progress at the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos, but such progress was not evident in today's meeting at Geneva. Communist delegates there continued to brush aside any talks of ceasefire violations by the Communist side.

Kennedy and Macmillan also announced "full agreement on the necessity of maintaining the rights and obligations" of the American, British and French governments in Berlin. This was one of the major issues discussed in Vienna by the President and Soviet premier.

Communique

The communique said the two men reviewed the world situation in the light of Kennedy's talks with both De Gaulle and Khrushchev.

Khrushchev rushed home to welcome President Sukarno of Indonesia, a neutralist Asian leader whose government has contracted for more than $300 million worth of Soviet military aid.

Khrushchev told the Viennese in a farewell statement he hoped his talks with Kennedy would lead to peace, understanding and co-operation between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Soviet Union

At Vienna, the Soviet leader stuck to the hard lines of his anti-Western policy. But U.S. officials hope that, as a result of the Vienna conference, he may yet modify his course.

Kennedy is reported to have told Khrushchev emphatically that if he forces a showdown over West Berlin, the Western powers will defend the city. Khrushchev was warned against miscalculating Western intentions.

Accused Chief Assassin of Trujillo Dead

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Soldiers and police shot down retired Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, the accused chief assassin of dictator Rafael Trujillo, in a gun battle Sunday night in the heart of this city. An alleged accomplice was slain with him.

Diaz, 52, was ripped by machine-gun fire and died on the street. His companion, Antonio de la Maza, died soon after in a military hospital.

The two had been trying to find refuge in the neighborhood when a house-to-house search squad of 100 men, acting on a tip, came upon them.

Authorities said De la Maza was carrying a gun that Generalissimo Trujillo had with him during his fatal ambush last Tuesday night on a road outside the capital.

An army communique said Diaz and De la Maza jumped from their car and began shooting after security agents had chased them to the edge of Independence Park and Bolivar Avenue. Police casualties were not mentioned.

The police got a tip that Diaz and De la Maza had been seen on a downtown street. The gun battle began 30 minutes after the two fugitives stopped at a house and were refused entry by the owner.

Police held back crowds of on-lookers during the intensive neighborhood search. A Puerto Rican correspondent and a Berlin photographer were momentarily detained by police.

Diaz had been a friend of Trujillo during much of the slain dictator's 31 years of power. Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., who took over as armed forces chief when his father died, said Diaz led the assassination plot because his forced retirement from the Dominican army had made him bitter.

Earlier the government had reported one of the eight members of the assassination band killed while resisting arrest, three in custody and four at large.

Woman Heads Christian Scientists

BOSTON (AP)—Mary Lee Gough, president of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, she succeeds Arthur W. Eckman, general counsel of the Mother Church.

A native of McKinney, Tex., Mrs. Gough received her education at Ward Seminary, Nashville, Tenn.; the University of Texas, and the University of Chicago. She left a musical career to devote full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing. In 1918 she became a listed practitioner. She became an authorized teacher of Christian Science in Chicago in 1946.

The Christian Science board of directors, in a special message to the annual meeting of the Mother Church, called for renewed vigilance on the part of all who cherish freedom, brotherhood and truth.

In her keynote address, Mrs. Gough said: "Basically, mankind needs awakening from the nightmare of belief in living matter and intelligent evil, from its confidence that matter can give satisfaction, that it holds the solution for all the diseases, inequities and inequalities of the human family."

Voice of the People:

This is my town—and I love it! I am not a "Dixonite" by birth—the only mistake, as far as I am concerned, but their roots have been here for several generations, and though I have lived many places, Dixon is "My Home Town".

The "Friendliest, Most Courteous" contest is now over. This contest was not conducted because My Town needed it, but to prove to people everywhere that Dixon has the "Friendliest, Most Courteous" employees in the country; that Dixon is a city of friendly and courteous people.

There is a saying, "People are the same the world over," and to a degree, this is true. We all want our place in the sun; we all want a decent standard of living, security, peace, consideration of each other's rights, and most of all, appreciation. In this respect, "people are the same the world over,"—but are they?

I believe you would have to look far to find another community that measures up to Dixon. I have found that this pride and love for Dixon is entrenched in all who were born and raised here, and in those who have come to make their home here.

Ask any newcomer how he likes Dixon—and the spontaneous smile lighting up his face as he answers this question can't help but make you glad to be a part of this wonderful town. I have never yet met anyone who did not love our town. Why is this? Because the people who make up this community ARE FRIENDLY AND COURTEOUS!

According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, one of the definitions of courtesy is, "habitual politeness; a courteous favor or act." From the same source, the synonyms given for friendly are: brotherly, cordial, genial, kind, neighborly and sociable. Dixon is all this!

I understand that there were many nominated who were not eligible because of their particular job—elected officials, managers or owners of various businesses—postal employees—to mention only a few. They were given recognition because they show kindly consideration for others, and in this one small gesture, is the key to Dixon's reputation as a friendly city. We take the time to show our appreciation of others, and in doing this we make every day occurrences rewarding.

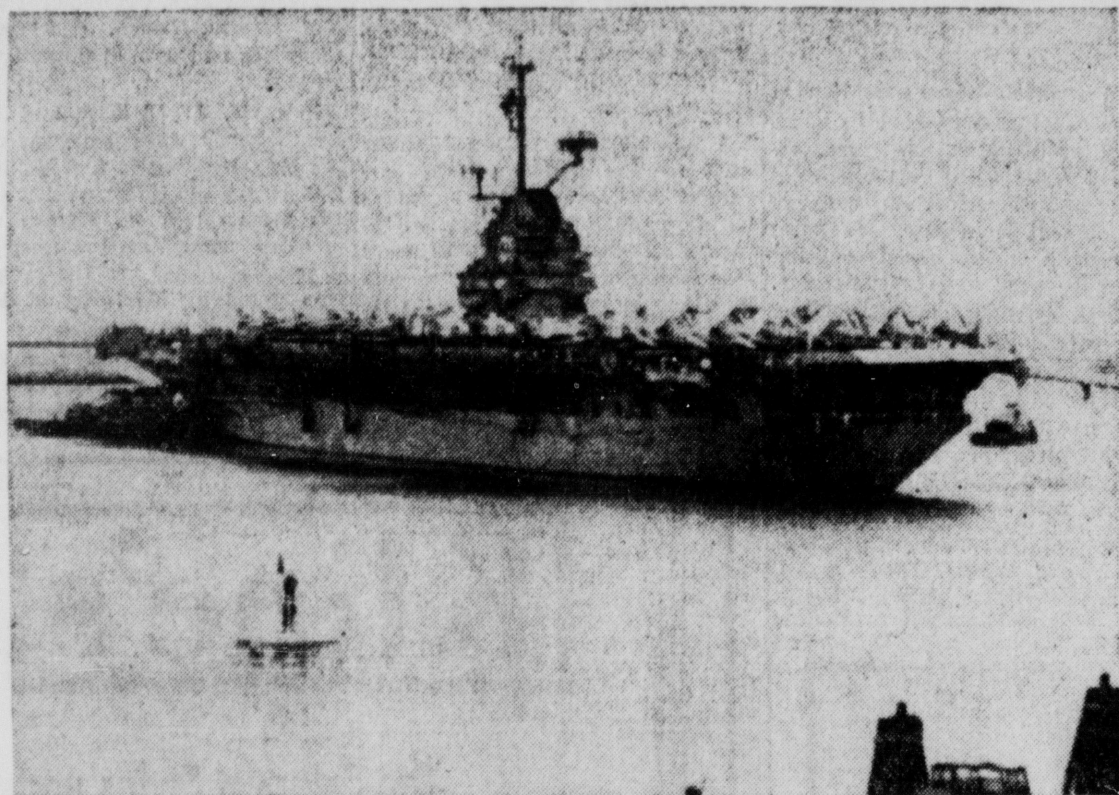

True, we all put our best foot forward at one time or another. Good manners, courtesy, friendliness—whatever you wish to call it—brushes off from one person to another. It is contagious, and a disease I hope is never cured.

I know Dixon will always have her best foot forward and all of us will strive to keep Dixon the "Friendliest, Most Courteous" city in the United States.

GE Prexy Says Price Fixing Conspiracies Taught Lesson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ralph J. Cordiner, president and board chairman of the General Electric Co., today described the price-fixing conspiracies in which his firm was involved as "a humbling experience."

He and others learned a lesson from it, Cordiner told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee.

In retrospect, he said it was apparent that his giant electric manufacturing company's efforts to insure compliance with the antitrust laws were not enough.

What he and all other GE executives and employees have learned, Cordiner said, is this: "This great country's competitive enterprise system will remain free and competitive only so long as the citizens, and particularly those of us with responsibilities in business life, are capable of the self-discipline required and are willing to exercise it."

Power Government
"If we are not," he said, "the power of government will increasingly be invoked as a substitute, to compensate for our failures. Then our competitive enterprise system will be neither free nor competitive."

"Thus, self-discipline is the key to a free, vigorous, and competitive economy."

Cordiner, who had asked that he be permitted to testify, gave his views as the subcommittee neared the end of a five-week inquiry into antitrust cases brought by the government against GE and other major electrical manufacturers.

Testimony
In his prepared testimony, he said that as GE's chief executive officer "I accept my share of responsibility for what happened, even though I did not know of these secret violations of the law or condone such acts."

"There is no excuse, in morality and ethics, in law, or in the exercise of sound business judgment, for these violations," he said.

"I believe the antitrust laws are necessary laws," Cordiner said, "and I believe that the public interest demands that they be enforced aggressively."

Cordiner said the illegal price-fixing meetings attended by lower echelon GE executives were violations of a clear, written company policy that he had done his best to instill at all levels.

He had worked for Public Service Co. for 36 years, 11 years of which were in Dixon. He had been in Joliet for 3½ years.

He was born Feb. 25, 1907, at Spring Hill, the son of Maurice and Sadie Lantherne Martin. He was educated at Sterling, and he married Violet Schwartz Sept. 20, 1926, in Aurora.

Academics Take Backseat At SIU, Professor Charges

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Dr. Harold See declared today Southern Illinois University is giving improper emphasis to the building program and not to educational planning at the Edwardsville-Alton campus.

"I don't see how we can effectively organize a campus without a definite idea of what the educational program will be," said Dr. See, former executive dean and vice president of the southwestern campus.

Dr. See testified before a legislative subcommittee conducting an investigation as a result of news stories critical of SIU spending and its academic program.

Resigned V.P.
Dr. See, who resigned as dean and vice president last December, said he has had "fundamental differences" with SIU president Delyte Morris over educational policies on the southwestern campus.

Dr. See now is research professor of higher education on SIU's Carbondale campus.

He said he had recommended to Dr. Morris that a basic academic program be established at the southwestern campus, adding: "You can't hire a good faculty unless you have some idea of what majors you are going to offer."

"Our program has lacked basic direction," he told the subcommittee, headed by Rep. Ralph Stephenson, R-Moline.

U. of Illinois
The University of Illinois, Dr. See said, has definite plans on what its school program will be at the Chicago campus.

The legislative hearing touched on the propriety of remodeling a structure on the southwestern campus at a cost of $67,500. Dr. Morris has said the building was used by university personnel staying overnight on trips from Carbondale.

Dr. See said he tried to have the university postpone the construction, fearing that the state university bond issue would not fare well in the area because of opposition to the building. The bond issue was approved by voters last November.

Illinois Auditor
Illinois auditor-general Frank Whitney testified he had asked the SIU Foundation if he could audit its books and was refused. He said he has audited books of foundations of the other five state-supported universities.

SIU and the foundation have acquired about 1,500 acres of a 2,600 acre tract for use as the eventual southwestern campus.

Dr. See told the five-member subcommittee the potential at the southwestern campus "is so great we can't even visualize it."

"I could be even greater than Carbondale," he said.

He said buildings should be secondary to the need for good faculty because "good professors can teach in a cowshed."

Time Now to Get in Shape For Summer Vacation Fun

By ALICIA HART

There is no time like the present to start thinking about the figure you'll cut on next summer's vacation, on the beach, on the tennis court, on the dance floor.

You still have the protection of cover-up spring clothes. But next summer, in a swimsuit, shorts and top or low-backed dance dress, you'll be subject to critical inspection, and if there are rolls of fat, five pounds of overweight or flabby upper-arms, they'll show.

So this is the time to put yourself on a high protein diet, to do spot exercises, to get yourself in shape. Summer will arrive sooner than you think. And if you haven't gotten into shape, you'll find yourself wishing that you had. It's a lot like saving for a rainy day.

Inevitably, the day arrives. And either you're ready or, regrettably, you're not. Since it's no fun to go about hunting for summer fashions that will disguise figure faults, better start now on a program of exercise and diet.

Beautiful Bride

If you're to be married this spring or summer, plan your make-up for the big day carefully. Remember that white tends to drain color from your face. But since you don't want your make-up to look theatrical, rely on skillful application to give you a glowing look through the day.

Start with one of the new translucent make-up bases. Be sure to buff it with a crumpled cleansing tissue. Then several light applications of face powder, fluffed on with a swansdown puff. Now, eye make-up. Be careful here to work with a light hand. And stay away from black eye liner. Colors are prettier for a bride. Now, a touch of dry rouge. Buff that, too, and powder lightly over it. Follow with a lipstick base, then lipstick. Allow twenty minutes for the lipstick to set before you blot it. The general effect of your make-up should be neither too dark nor too light. It should complement your own skin tones as beautifully as possible.

KSB Alumni Picnic Wednesday

Rest Period

A daily rest period is the secret of many a woman's energy and good looks. It need not be long; half an hour or even 15 minutes will turn the trick. But it should be really rest, in a quiet and slightly darkened room.

Lie down with your feet propped up. Make yourself completely comfortable and don't be concerned if you don't go to sleep. You'll find that you benefit from your rest anyway.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to get letters on every imaginable subject so I hope you will print mine.

I'm a mailman. Please don't think I'm complaining about the work. Almost everybody is pleasant and friendly. Strangers say "Beautiful day" or "Miserable rain we're having"—sometimes they just smile.

It's well known that a mailman will never get rich on the job, but if he didn't love his work he'd do something else. The thing I'd like to get across in your column is the mailman's biggest problem—the size and position of mailboxes. Almost half the boxes are too small and badly placed. This means we have to stoop, reach or bend.

If the average person would try to shove a magazine and three letters into his own mailbox with a 40 pound pack on his back, he'd get the idea. If everyone who reads your column would check his mailbox our work would be a breeze. Thank you. — YOUR MAILMAN

Dear Mailman: I just tried to shove a magazine and three letters into my own mailbox, and it's impossible. How do you do it. Thank you for writing. I'm going to see what I can do about my mailbox at once.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter eloped seven years ago at the age of 17. She wanted to avoid finishing high school and be free to "live her own life."

Since she married she has been a constant financial drain on us. We have other children at home and my husband is in his 50's. We both have worked hard all our lives and have nothing to show for it. Whenever we get a few dollars ahead, this daughter "needs" something. She believes that parents have a moral obligation to share whatever they have with their children — married or single. Will you please comment on this? — BLEED WHITE

Dear White: Part of the problem is your fault. Parents should make it plain that kids who quit school to get married are strictly on their own. Often this will chill a premature marriage and the children decide to stay in school where they belong.

Parents of married children bear no financial responsibility. If they wish to help, it's a different matter. But they should not be bludgeoned, shamed or nagged into giving money or gifts to married children.

Dear Ann Landers: I just wanted you to know that your rules for getting over a mad crush worked. I am a girl 16 who went ape over a guy who didn't treat me right. I kept going with him and taking whatever he dished out because I thought I could never get over being crazy about him.

Then I read your column listing instructions on how to get over a mad crush. I cut it out and framed it. I read it every morning and every night. It took three weeks, four days and five hours, but now I am completely cured. Thanks a million. — MINNY

Things Dixon Talked About

10 YEARS AGO

Warning to all June flowers, early vegetables and girls who wear shorts: Cover up, frost is expected tonight!

The last meeting of the season of the Service Club will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday, June 6, with a scramble picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. R. E. Erikson, Grand Detour.

Shirley Barrowman, 421 McKenney street, will arrive home June 6 from Northern Illinois State Teachers College, Shirley was recently initiated into Alpha Delta, national honorary journalistic fraternity, and was elected president for next year of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity. She has been elected recording secretary for next year of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority.

Each of us knows, too, that "the certain something" can be lost. We say a ballplayer "has had it"; that the charm girl no longer has "it."

Most often, we can neither define what's gone nor explain what caused it to vanish. But, in the case of recovery from an illness, an accident or an operation, we know that there's something missing from the final report that states for all to see that the patient was discharged "well" or "cured" or "without disability."

We say to one another "Yes, the wound is healed, as they say. And the fracture has knit. And the fever's gone. But he just isn't the same." Or, "I don't know what it is but she just isn't herself."

And that certain something isn't necessarily a manifestation of a neurosis, or an example of malingering.

When you see it, it's just as obvious as the nose on your face. And the good news is the fact that it almost always lifts, like a ground fog, with the exercise of understanding, tolerance and a big dose of kindness.

MISSING INGREDIENT

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The suburban Urbanews recently published notice of the first practice for the Urbandale softball team. The paper neglected to identify the team as a girls' outfit.

Quite a few males showed up — but not one girl, so the workout was postponed.

Too many people look upon marriage as a beau knot, and untie it. Maybe it's natural for tin hats to have the most brass.

A few times late to dinner for dad makes a woman a bitter half instead of a better.

It must be nice to be in a spot where neighbors accuse you of allowing wealth to go to your head.

WOMEN MORE LAWFUL

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Rochester police say that of the 12,632 people they arrested for traffic violations last year, only 15 per cent were women.

Westbrook Pegler Comments

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES—The precious right to vote is not as exciting as political superstition would have it. In California just now, it is nestled down like an aged yard-hen in a box. It is soft, insipid and warm. It will wink the yellow lids if you mutter "chick-chick." Cross-filing and gerrymandering have sickened the franchise with a pernicious rump.

I was born with the right to vote when I came 21, and I have read of battles where young sprouts in ragged breeches were shot down by the soldiers of George III so that I could walk into a little canvas shower-stall at the Casas Adobes quarter of Tucson a few weeks ago to vote for Mac Matheson, the Republican candidate for Congress against Mo Udall, the Democrat. But it was a listless exercise of a paltry heritage. I was heartily surprised late that night by a broadcast which told us that our man had hustled the Democrat right down to the finish, breathing hot on his neck. I will be aroused when I can't vote.

Republicans do not expect to win except with Democrats like Eisenhower. So here in California today, George Christopher, the Republican mayor of San Francisco, is giving Republicans the old pep about enticing Democrats to vote for Republicans next time out. He means Wendell Wilkie Republicans. He reminds me of Charlie Pyle, the football promoter, who seduced Red Grange from the Illinois campus when we were very young and took him barnstorming with a gang of other apostates from the cloisters of statutory education. Charlie was stomping up and down the dressing room between halves this cold winter day, banging his walking cane on the concrete floor and yelling "Now next half I want a lot of that old pepper." This was at the Yankee Stadium.

George Trafton, our center, was drinking hootch out of a paper cup.

"Did you hear that?" he said. "Charlie wants a lot of that old pepper." A blonde brute named McMillan stirred in his blankets and muttered, "go away." We had tossed and bounced over the mountains from Pittsburgh the whole night before.

I have to doubt that the Republicans of Los Angeles were any more deeply stirred by Mayor Christopher's exhortation. The mayor told them they must find a "positive, honest approach." The old pep.

There is a tremendous, hardly perceptible silent commotion all over California about the outrage of reapportionment in both the congressional and state legislative bodies. The Republicans reapportioned these precious institutions 10 years ago and the Democrats yelled murder. This was going far too far — by far.

This year the Democrats did it back and Herb Klein, the quiet, mannerly press secretary who so well conducted Richard Nixon's visit to Moscow in 1959, remarked, "They cut up the Republicans pretty badly. You have to have a party to have an opposition."

Klein was right, although the Republicans still have the makings of a party. They will come back. The indomitable party spirit of American politics will keep the Republicans in business. Klein said, however, that it is a good thing to have a big, wide spread in a national party in this country. A New York Javits is a horror to a Goldwater Republican. Even Nixon finds a Javits hard to endure. But Rockefeller, for example, is worse. And it certainly was much worse when Harold Stassen was around, always latching onto the fabric of Ike's pants like a cholla burr in the desert until something shook him finally loose and he spun off into nowhere.

"Otherwise," Klein said, "You have to have a party to have an opposition."

The next day, Steve, wanting to be helpful, got up early and plowed the entire garden. The family now calls it the "tossed salad garden."

Note 100th Birthday of 'Little Giant'

CHICAGO (AP) — An almost forgotten monument to the "Little Giant" of ante-bellum politics has been honored by Chicago and Illinois.

Site of the Civil War Centennial memorial service Saturday was the Stephen A. Douglas tomb, 35th Street at the Illinois Central Railroad tracks.

Mayor Richard J. Daley and William Lodge, Illinois conservation director, placed wreaths at the tomb. They were accompanied by a delegation of scholars and politicians.

The service commemorated the 100th anniversary of Douglas' death at the age of 48.

Douglas, a Democrat, was an able foe of Republican Abraham Lincoln. He defeated Lincoln in a race for the U.S. Senate in 1858 and lost to Lincoln two years later in the presidential campaign.

Douglas' debates with Lincoln raised the then obscure Springfield lawyer to national prominence.

But faced with the Civil War, Douglas used his political strength to help Lincoln unify support.

Kim Novak Is High on Young Trujillo

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rafael Trujillo Jr., who succeeded to the dictatorial power of his late father in the Dominican Republic, was the recipient of good wishes from Kim Novak.

The blonde actress, young Trujillo's frequent date when he visited Southern California, three years ago, disclosed Saturday that she had sent him a telegram. "I told him," she said, "that my prayers were with him and I asked God to help him in this hour of his country's need."

So They Say

What your country needs are not satellites who vote with you automatically on all issues because they want your money, but friends who support you from conviction—and who may also oppose you from conviction.

—President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

I don't think Laos is worth the life of a single American boy. . . . I don't think we should be blackmailed, so to speak, into supporting every area of the world where the leaders of that particular area may say, "Well, if you don't come in and help, then we may go Communist."

To attempt to defeat the Russians by stifling the institutions on which our free society is built would be worse than a Pyrrhic victory, for we shall have given up so much that we shall have fought for nothing.

—Carl T. Rowan, deputy assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs, on free press.

ONCE SEEDED, TWICE PLOWED
DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Nine-year-old Steven Laton of Des Moines had heard his father say several times that it was time to plant the family garden. But the boy wasn't home when the planting was done.

The next day, Steve, wanting to be helpful, got up early and plowed the entire garden. The family now calls it the "tossed salad garden."

J.F.K.'s Spurs To Be Earned in Diplomacy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is doing well in the field he knows best—politics and Congress. But he can't be judged yet on his ability in foreign affairs, an area in which he has had the least experience.

His domestic proposals so far have received very agreeable treatment in Congress where Republicans and conservative Democrats could do him damage any time they wanted to team up.

Kennedy has handled Congress in just about the way his vice president, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, might have been expected to operate if he had been the president.

Like Johnson

Johnson, when he was leader of the Senate Democrats, followed a very moderate course in the legislation he sought to get through. Kennedy has done the same. Both men avoid personal quarrels and work hard behind the scenes.

In all ways except the last they operate much as former President Eisenhower did. His behind-the-scenes work was not as expert as theirs, but then he seemed to have an inclination to keep hands off Congress.

But it is in the foreign field that Kennedy is still a rather unknown quantity.

His meetings these past few days with French President De Gaulle in Paris and Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna didn't reveal much except that Kennedy and De Gaulle seemed to get along well and Kennedy's relations with Khrushchev appeared amiable.

First Hand Impressions

Perhaps the fact that Kennedy got a chance to size up De Gaulle and Khrushchev at first hand, and they him, will help their future relations. This may have been the main accomplishment of his journey.

The three men seem to have settled nothing—judging by the communiques issued after the Paris and Vienna meetings—but, since they weren't expected to, there can be no disappointment in this.

The Kennedy-De Gaulle communique said they agreed on defending Berlin against a Communist effort to isolate it or take it over. But they were agreed on that before hand—it was American-French policy.

The Kennedy-Khrushchev communique was just a little different—if a difference can be read into it.

Vienna Statement

This said that, while the two men discussed a number of problems, they "reaffirmed their support" for a neutral Laotian government and "recognized the importance of an effective ceasefire."

This could mean—but don't bet on it—that the two sides will now work out some agreement for bringing peace to the Southeast Asian country where the Russian-backed rebels have taken over most of the territory.

Otherwise the communique was skimpy on information. This gap was filled in a bit by so-called "thoroughly qualified diplomatic sources" which, translated into everyday English, must mean American officials authorized by Kennedy to give reporters more information than the communique contained.

Wait and See

It can be boiled down to this: They talked about a number of things, got each other's views, which they already knew anyway, and left the question of settlement, if any, to the future.

From now on—as Congress draws closer to winding up its business—Kennedy will be drawn deeper into foreign affairs where the decisions he makes will provide a realistic yardstick for judging him.

Jobless Toll Decreases In Southern Illinois

CENTRALIA (AP)—The persistent surplus of labor that has glued Southern Illinois to the roster of economically distressed areas may be losing its grip, the Illinois Employment Service reports.

But the Committee for Economic Development, a private research group comprising 200 businessmen, said in a special report today four areas in Southern Illinois remain among 83 small-labor markets in the nation plagued by chronic unemployment.

The CED report outlined statistics over a period of several years to January 1961. The Illinois Employment Service said the gloomy tide of economic distress may have begun a change of direction in February and March.

CED Report

The CED report, a survey of causes of economic distress and means of curing the ills, said Southern Illinois has been hit particularly hard by a decline in the coal industry.

Reduced employment conditions prevail, unabating, in the mining industry in the Harrisburg area and the Herrin-Murphysboro-West Frankfort area, the CED said.

The railroad industries in Centralia and Mount Vernon areas have been hard-hit, according to the CED.

Such observations are not necessarily new to Southern Illinois. Businessmen, labor leaders and government officials have acknowledged for several years the causes of economic depression in some southern areas of the state.

ISES See Hope

But the Illinois Employment Service said statistics it has gathered in the last few weeks show a new trend emerging in the Southern Illinois area that comprises the four locales listed by the CED.

Mrs. Elizabeth Slotkin, chief of research for the employment service, said statistics for early periods of 1961 are not yet complete.

However, a decline in the number of claimants for jobless compensation under the Illinois Unemployment Act offers a basis for optimism, she said.

4 Counties

These are figures she gave for counties south and including Randolph, Washington, Clinton, Fayette, Effingham, Jasper and Crawford:

In February, the area's number of unemployed affected by the act was 18.7 per cent of the total affected labor force—compared to a state average of 6.6 per cent.

By April, the area's percentage was 15 compared to 5.3 for the state. The decline in unemployment, she said, began in March—the first major improvement in the area's jobless situation since July 1960.

She said although seasonal activity may have played a role in the employment increase, "there seems to be a little more involved—especially in the oil field and industrial brackets."

The CED report refers to migration of workers to other areas as factories close in Southern Illinois. But new industries—generally prompted in recent months by local efforts—have settled in several cities: Cairo, Joppa, Vandalia, Chester and others.

Government programs have brought construction activity to Carlyle, Effingham, Marion and Vienna. In the offing are more government projects in Centralia and Harrisburg.

But Mrs. Slotkin said Southern Illinois' surplus labor situation is far from being thoroughly relieved.

A fire breaks out someplace in the United States every 15 seconds.

Carry Back Is Reported Lame

Sherluck Wins First at $132.10 for $2 Clip

OCEANPORT, N.J. (P)—Carry Back, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner who failed dismally in the Belmont Stakes, must have been hurting in the left front ankle when he blew a chance Saturday to become the ninth Triple Crown hero.

Another colt owned by a Miami resident, Jacob Sher's Sherluck, was a romping winner of the $148,650 Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park. Carry Back, bet down to favoritism at odds of 9 to 20 by a howling crowd of 51,586, came home seventh in a field of nine in the 93rd running of the big 3-year-old classic.

Arrives Lame

Carry Back is owned by Katherine Price of Miami, and trained by her husband, Jack, who reported the colt lame upon arrival Sunday at Monmouth Park from New York.

"It's his left front ankle," said Price. "He was lame when he was unloaded from the van that took him from Belmont to Monmouth Park. Preliminary X-rays show no fracture and I'm inclined to think it's a pulled muscle. But we intend to take other X-rays to try to make sure."

When Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster set the slow Belmont pace, and Sherluck tagged along in second place ready to strike for the big cash in the final length of a mile, Carry Back was obviously in trouble.

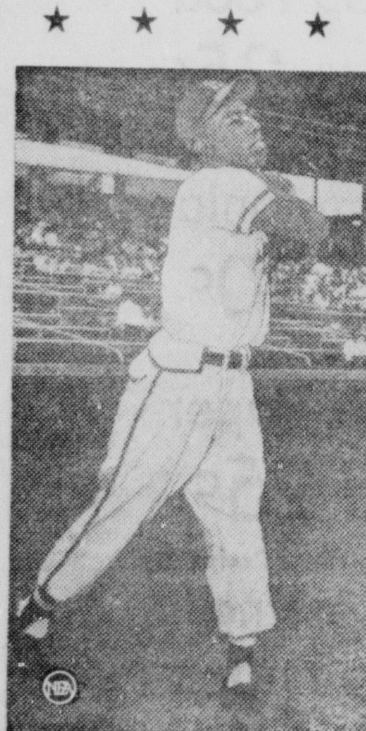

"Rough Trip"

Jockey Johnny Sellers, who had accelerated Carry Back to his sensational scores at Churchill Downs and Pimlico, said afterwards that the Price colt "had a rough trip, and there was no racing room anywhere."

Sherluck, ridden by Panamanian Braulio Baeza, hadn't won a race since the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, Lexington, Ky., 10 days before the Derby. Baeza rode him in that one, too.

Sherluck earned the Belmont purse of $104,900. He paid the highest straight price in the history of the Belmont, a boxcar $132.10, for $2.

Aaron Is Swinging Away; Bat Booms Average to .347

HANK AARON

MILWAUKEE (P)—Milwaukee slugger Hank Aaron is swinging away in old time form—and opposing National League pitchers once again are ducking for cover.

Although the Braves are stumbling around in the pennant chase, Aaron has been wielding a red-hot bat and turning in some fine defensive plays in center field, a position he once shunned.

In the last 11 games, Aaron has connected for 19 hits in 42 times at bat to boost his average to .347, second in the league only to Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I'm still up there swinging away, but no longer trying for the long ball," Aaron said before the Braves left Sunday night on a two-week road trip. "I'm trying to concentrate on just meeting the ball. I figure that way the long hit will come naturally."

Aaron hit 40 homers and topped National League sluggers with 126 runs driven in last year, but was displeased with his .292 batting average. That was 26 points under his lifetime mark and 63 below

Scramble for First in NL

Homers Power Detroit Wins

By The Associated Press

The National League race is a wild scramble with Los Angeles out front by only a half game and San Francisco tied with Cincinnati for second place.

Despite Los Angeles' 4-2 defeat at the hands of San Francisco Sunday, the Dodgers retained the lead because Cincinnati had to be satisfied with a split against Chicago.

After Sam Jones ran into a wild streak in the seventh inning, the Giants once more called on Stu Miller, who stopped the Dodgers the rest of the way.

The Giants' 4-2 victory, set up by Felipe Alou's two-run homer off loser Stan Williams, cut the Dodgers' National League lead to a half game. The Giants and Cincinnati Reds are tied for second, five percentage points back.

Cincinnati could have regained the lead but they stumbled over Chicago after winning the first game. Jim Maloney threw a three-hitter at Chicago in the 3-1 opener but the Cubs downed the Reds 8-2 in the second game.

Warren Spahn, spinning along toward another 20-game season, won his sixth of the year and the 294th of his career, by pitching Milwaukee to a 7-1 decision over St. Louis. He gave up only six hits.

Don Ferrarese, a refugee from the American League, made his first victory for Philadelphia a 5-0 job against Pittsburgh. It was the second time in three days the Pirates had been shut out by the Phils.

The Cubs tangle with St. Louis in a night game in which Dick Ellsworth (2-4) will face Curt Simmons (2-4).

WEEKEND FIGHTS
LOS ANGELES: Emile Griffith, 145½, New York, stopped Gaspar Ortega, 146, Tijuana, Mexico, 12 (world welterweight title).

Veeck Decision Today

CHICAGO (P)—President Bill Veeck is expected to hand down the final decision today on the sale of controlling interest in the Chicago White Sox.

"It's all up to Veeck," said Vice President Hank Greenberg. "If he decides to sell, we sell. If not, we stay."

Veeck, Greenberg and A. C. Allyn Jr. own 54 per cent of Sox stock and their interest is being sought by a syndicate which includes entertainer Danny Thomas. Spokesman and apparent head of the group is Chicago attorney Bernard Epton.

"We have made a firm offer," said Epton Sunday. "Now it is up to them. There's no question of money. We have more than necessary. I made the offer to Mr. Allyn and also gave him a check."

Epton would not disclose the amount of the check nor would he call it "earnest money."

Offer $4.8 Million
The Epton group reportedly has offered $4.8 million for the Veeck stock. Veeck's combine bought the 54 per cent from Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney for $2.7 million two years ago. The contract provided for a $175,000 rebate if the group failed, within a year, to acquire the 80 per cent of stock necessary for tax depreciation benefits.

The other 46 per cent of the club is held by Chuck Comiskey who failed to gain control of the club even before his sister sold to Veeck. Comiskey has never let up in his efforts to gain control but it isn't considered likely that he would exceed or match the reported Epton offer.

Archie Moore

Old Archie To Defend His Title

By The Associated Press

It has been almost 22 months since Archie Moore last defended his world light heavyweight boxing title. In the meantime the "world" has shrunk.

The National Boxing Association withdrew its recognition because Moore failed to defend and eventually crowned Harold Johnson, Moore still reigns in New York, Massachusetts and Europe.

Moore finally gets in the ring Saturday night with his championship on the line. His opponent will be Giulio Rinaldi, a 26-year-old Italian, who beat him in a non-title scrap in Rome last October.

The last time Moore made the 175-pound class limit was Aug. 12, 1959. He knocked out Yvon Durelle in three rounds.

Rinaldi has fought only 30 bouts (25-5 record). Moore will be climbing into the ring for No. 213. He has a 181-25-6 record with 130 knockouts.

The bout will be carried on network (ABC) television, starting at 9 p.m. (CDT).

Merchant Nine Whips Hubs 7-5

By BART JOHNSON

The Dixon Merchants kept on the winning track Sunday afternoon by defeating Rochelle 7-5 for their fourth straight victory. The Merchants' defense left something to be desired but the creditable pitching of Dave Kmet and the hitting of Dick Rink and Bill Brelsford were more than enough to offset Dixon's five errors.

The margin of victory for Dixon was supplied by a two-run homer by Rink with Jim Boedecker on base in the sixth. The ball sailed well over the fence at the 320 mark for the second homer of the year for Rink. Although the hero of the game, Rink was not around to enjoy it. In the bottom of the eighth he was knocked unconscious by a pitch thrown by Rochelle's Clark Gustrafson. Rink was rushed to the KSB Hospital where the extent of his injury is yet to be determined.

Dixon jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first inning and was never headed after that. Jack Anderson lead off with a single and walks to Bob Wiman and John Gehant loaded the bases. Peanie Bruce's grounder was fumbled by the Hub shortstop allowing one run to score. Brelsford then clouted a bases clearing double into the corner in left field.

Rochelle picked up single runs in the second and third innings. A double by Denny Stahl and Dale Winterland's single produced one run and the other on an error and a double by Larry Gustrafson.

Dixon's fifth run came in the bottom of the third on singles by Gehant, Brelsford and Dave Shank. In the sixth came Rink's blast which closed Dixon's scoring for the day.

Rochelle scored two more runs in the seventh on two errors and a single by Larry Gustrafson. A ninth inning rally was stopped cold by Kmet after lead-off singles by Clark Gustrafson and pinch-hitter Dale Ponto. Fisher's sacrifice fly did score one run but Kmet got the side out on a weak infield pop-up.

The win was the first for Kmet who joined the team after having a fine season at Northern Illinois University. He struck out 12 hitters and walked one. Next Sunday the Merchants travel to Hampshire to attempt to stay in first place in the NIABL.

Cleveland is making a big move in the American League race by winning 18 of its last 22 games but it can't match the home run boom of the front-running Detroit Tigers.

The secret of Detroit's ability can be read in the Sunday box scores. The Tigers' eight home runs were hit by eight different men.

Sure, the big men hit a few. Rocky Colavito got No. 15, Norm Cash No. 12, and Dick Brown No. 9. But the list also included Chico Fernandez, Bubba Morton, Mike Roarke, Jake Wood and Billy Branton.

Lead League
The Tigers now lead the league in home runs with a total of 61, a statistic that is almost as startling as their long tenure in first place.

Detroit took two falls out of the groggy Minnesota Twins Sunday 10-4 and 9-3. The Twins now have lost nine in a row and 14 of their last 15.

Cleveland continued to streak along on the trail of the Tigers by sweeping two from the Los Angeles Angels, who can't seem to do much when they get out of Wrigley Field. The Indians won 5-3 and 8-4.

New York finally found a pitcher besides Whitey Ford who could go the route in Bill Stafford. He proceeded to hold Chicago to seven hits while the White Sox chipped in with five errors, easing the Yanks' way to a 10-1 romp.

Pinch Single
Boston beat Baltimore 6-5 on Joe Ginsberg's pinch two-run single in the last of the ninth. It was Ginsberg's first hit of the year.

Jim Archer, who escaped from the Kansas City bullpen on the suggestion of owner Charlie Finley, went all the way to top Washington 8-5 although he gave up 15 hits, five in the ninth.

The Sox opened a two-game series with Detroit tonight and send Frank Bauman (3-4) against Phil Regan (5-1).

THREE-INCH NUMBERS

NEW YORK (P)—The U.S. Coast Guard is making a national effort to convince boatmen of the importance of displaying boat numbers properly. The Coast Guard reports that many numbers are the wrong size, are of improper type and have a weak color contrast.

Numbers must be at least three inches high, of block type and of a color that will contrast sharply with the color of the boat's background.

Fichter, Underwood Cop Singles Titles in Tennis

By JIM SCHWITTERS

History repeated itself Sunday afternoon at the South Side Tennis Courts as five of last year's champions walked off with the laurels in this year's version of the Dixon Lion's Club District Tennis Tournament of the Western Lawn Tennis Assn.

Play was held in both the Junior Boys and the Boys Divisions. This year's field was the largest in the history of the tournament. Tennis players from Mt. Morris, Sterling, Rochelle, DeKalb, and Dixon made up the field.

In the 18 and under singles, Chill Fichter, once more, proved he was the strongest in his division by rolling through five straight singles matches, including the finals, and losing but two games.

His opponent in the finals, Clark Slothower, turned in a fine performance in the Quarter and Semi-Finals, when he battered the number two seeded player, Dennis Jorster, Sterling, 6-3, 6-1; and then topped fourth seeded Dave Keeley, 6-1, 6-0, before losing to Fichter.

The two singles finalists, Fichter and Slothower, then pooled their talents to cop the 18 and under doubles crown by blasting the up-set-minded tandem of John Underwood and Dave Detweiler, 6-0, 6-1, in the finals. Previous to this, Underwood and Detweiler had pulled the upset of the tourney when they outstaided, outlasted and outfought Dave Keeley and Carl Arold, 3-6, 9-7, 6-3, in the semi-final match.

After a brief rest, the young twosome of Underwood and Detweiler took to the courts once again, this time to come out on the top side in the finals, as they clinched the Boys' 15 and under doubles title, 6-0, 6-1, from John Wallin and Mike Corken.

In the Boys 15 and under singles, John Underwood successfully defended the crown he annexed in 1960 by slipping by John Wallin, 6-0, 7-5, in the semi-finals, and crushing Mike Corken, 6-0, 6-1, in the finals.

Mike Corken, John's opponent in the finals, had accounted for Dave Detweiler, 1960 runner-up, in the semi-finals when he came from behind to take the match, 6-8, 6-1, 6-4. Corken had trailed 3-1 in the third set.

Variables in Effect of Feed Grain Program

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration's emergency feed grain program now moves to its second big test—one that will tell just how successful it will be in reducing surplus stocks of corn and sorghum grain.

Under the first test, farmers signed to retire more than 25 percent of the land used in past two years to grow these feed crops. That's a bigger retirement sign-up than officials had expected.

The second test comes with actual planting and harvesting. Agriculture Department officials certainly do not expect a 25 percent reduction in production of these grains. They know there will be some drop.

Some Changed Minds

Officials expect some farmers to change their minds about idling land and to plant signed acres. There is nothing to keep them from doing this, unless of course, they have accepted partial payment authorized for retiring land. In that case they would have to return the money.

Officials expect losses of this kind to be not more than 2 or 3 percent of the total acreage of these crops. In other words, if final figures show 26 million acres signed up for retirement, the net production may drop to 23 or 24 million acres.

24 Per Cent Reduction

But even a 24 per cent reduction in acreage would not be expected to bring a 24 per cent reduction in production. There will be a tendency to retire the poorest acres. This would have the effect of raising the average acre yield on the land kept in production and hence increasing the total production on the used land.

Furthermore, some farmers may use more fertilizer than normal on the land kept in use. This, too, would tend to boost the average yield per remaining acre.

Some May Raise More

In addition, some farmers who did not sign to retire grain land may plant more acres than they did in the past two years. This would tend to offset some of the reduction made by the cooperating farmers. However, such increases may be held to a low level because of the fact the government has greatly increased the price support rate for soybeans, a crop that competes with corn for land.

There's still another uncertain factor—one beyond the control of man. That's the weather. Unusual ly favorable weather could reduce the effectiveness of the program, while adverse weather could help the program reduce production.

The full story will not be known until harvest time next fall.

Rock 'N' Roll Fans in Riot

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A wild brawl ended a Saturday night beach party, planned for a few thousand rock 'n' roll fans, at which more than 25,000 showed up.

One girl was raped, another was beaten to the sand and stomped by rioters, and a third suffered a serious eye injury when a firecracker was thrown in her face.

Fifty sheriff's officers and highway patrolmen braved a barrage of rocks, beer bottles and cans to break up the mob. Fourteen youths were arrested.

Rioting members of the vast throng ripped plumbing out of public rest rooms and tore parts off lifeguard towers to build giant bonfires. Singer Fabian, who was to entertain at the party, refused to go on when it began to get out of control.

A Los Angeles radio station, KRLA, planned the party at Zuma Beach, a county facility 20 miles north of here. The violence began as the formal party ended at 11:15 p.m.

"It was a milling, drinking, ugly crowd of 25,000 to 30,000 young people on the beach in the dark," said Capt. Kirby Temple of the county lifeguard service.

"They were fighting, shouting, grabbing girls, and tearing each others' clothes. You name it and they did it."

Law officers blamed the trouble on drinking. There was no race problem, they said. Most of the youths arrested were charged with drunkenness, bringing alcohol into a county park or juvenile possession of alcohol.

Herb Heiman, KRLA program director, said the trouble started when the program ended and the crowd didn't want to leave.

It took law officers four hours to completely clear the beach.

Rockford School Nixes Federal Aid

ROCKFORD (AP) — Rockford College has gone it alone for 114 years and does not plan to seek federal help for its current $15 million rebuilding program. Karl Williams, chairman of the college's board of trustees, said the school had operated independently with nothing but private support, throughout its history.

"We are bound to lose that independence and support if we seek federal subsidies," Williams said Saturday.

Alan Mattison, a trustee, said, "I think we must stand on our principles and our convictions."

The trustees then voted to undertake the rebuilding job without federal help although the school has raised only $2 million of the $15 million needed to build an entirely new campus on the east edge of Rockford. The present campus is 114 years old.

A school spokesman said the college already is eligible for low interest federal loans and could be eligible for federal matching-fund grants.

But the college trustees contend there is more than money involved. John A. Howard, president of the school, said:

"I feel that a dependence on national government to solve all problems weakens the moral fiber of its citizens. Man's human stature rises as he is self sufficient and declines as he is dependent."

"I feel this is a particularly significant decision, for the commitment to relocate Rockford College involves one of the largest single fund-raising tasks ever undertaken by a small college."

Train Rams Car, Kills 4 Atlantans

SUWANEE, Ga. (AP) — The air-conditioned car's windows were closed to keep out the Sunday afternoon heat. They also kept out the blasts of a passenger train's whistle as it approached a crossing.

The train rammed the car, state troopers said, and dragged it about 60 feet down the track. The four passengers, all Atlantans, were killed instantly.

See Nik's Other Side at Vienna

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
VIENNA (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev of the Vienna summit was a far different man from the one who blew up last year's summit in Paris and made a shambles of a U.N. General Assembly session in New York.

The man who talked face to face with President Kennedy over the weekend was for the most part grave and subdued.

Probably there were good reasons, Khrushchev came to Vienna for a specific purpose.

Diplomatic sources say his main purpose in seeking a meeting with the President of the United States was to have an opportunity to size up the young man who has taken over the leadership of the world opposition to Communist ambitions.

These sources add that the Soviet premier is likely to feel that he accomplished that mission. He talked with the President, and from the talks got a better idea of just how dangerous future Communist expansion by direct pressure may be.

Khrushchev also demonstrated with startling clarity that he is a man who is fully in control of himself. By his sober performance in Vienna he provided ample evidence that he knew just what he was doing when he took off his shoe and banged it on his table at the U.N. session last fall, and when he stormed and raged in Paris a year ago.

When it suits his purposes, Khrushchev showed, he can take on the appearance of a careful statesman, too.

One of the most significant results of the exploratory summit meeting here was the report that Khrushchev did not push urgently on the potentially explosive quarrel over Berlin.

The situation in the world has been extremely dangerous in recent weeks. The Kremlin may have come to the conclusion that it is time now to let it simmer down a bit and thus remove the danger of explosion.

Big Money Bills Up In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House fixes its attention on appropriations bills this week while the Senate tussles with the administration's omnibus housing bill.

More than $20 billion ride with the measures, with passage seemingly certain.

There are two money bills up for early House action—$5.9 billion in annual appropriations for agriculture and an $8.4-billion catch-all money measure for a score of independent federal agencies.

House leaders look for passage of both by Wednesday.

Target date for final action on the housing bill, carrying more than $6 billion of loan and grant authority for a wide variety of programs, is late Wednesday or Thursday.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., is managing the big housing bill on the Senate floor. He says he's confident the Senate will turn thumbs down on most of the Republican-backed amendments to trim the bill.

So far, Congress has been slow in putting over the 16 annual appropriations needed to keep the government in business for the next 12 months. These bills run over $80 billion. Five have cleared the House and only one of these has also made it through the Senate.

Aware of the heavy work load ahead, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate Democratic leader, has abandoned hope of adjournment near the end of July.

Blowout Sets Off Car Pileup; 2 Dead, 5 Hurt

PEKIN (AP) — A blowout is blamed for the Saturday night 4-car crash in Tazewell County which killed two persons and injured five.

The mishap, on Illinois 98 a mile east of Illinois 29, killed Donald Lee Naven, 17, of Pekin, and Edward G. Ayers, 44, of St. David.

Authorities said a tire on Naven's car blew out, causing the vehicle to collide with one driven by Robert Boone, 46, of Lewistown and another driven by P. V. Collyer of Peoria. Ayers was a passenger in Collyer's car.

A fourth car, driven by J. T. Laster of North Pekin, collided then with the wreckage of the Collyer and Naven vehicles. Laster, Boone and a passenger in Boone's car escaped injury.

Four Pekin Community High School classmates riding with Naven were injured. They are Edward Roth, 16, Nancy Schilling, 15, Barbara Keil, 15, and Norman Lovelace, 17, all of Pekin. The boys and Collyer were listed in serious condition in Pekin Public Hospital.

200 Couples Do It Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some 200 couples, married from 25 years to six months, repeated their wedding vows for a second time Sunday.

"You are invited to your own wedding," read the invitations sent from Christ Church. Each enclosed a white lapel ribbon to identify the bridegroom. Each bride received a small cluster of artificial flowers as couples were ushered to a reserved section in the 1,800-seat church.

The organ played the wedding march. They came down all four aisles for the mass remarriage, an annual June custom at the church.

Saturn Stopped By Dam Break

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—A break in a lock in a TVA dam poses a major problem to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration: How will the huge Saturn space booster be transported to Cape Canaveral, Fla.?

The booster is scheduled to be launched in Florida later this year. A barge was built especially to haul it to Cape Canaveral from Redstone Arsenal.

The barge is at Redstone Arsenal — above the damaged link in the Tennessee River navigation system.

Huge concrete sections in the lock at Wheeler Dam shifted Friday night. Traffic cannot go through the lock until repairs are made. TVA said it may take many months.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had planned to ship the Saturn down the Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

The Marshall Space Flight center said it hopes to present a practical solution to NASA headquarters in Washington by Tuesday.

A NASA spokesman said, "There are only three ways to transport the Saturn — by land, water or air. It's too big to fly, and we can't move it on the roads all the way to Florida. And we certainly don't intend to launch it here."

The source said the Saturn, 22 feet in diameter and 75 feet long, apparently will have to be moved on highways from Huntsville to a point below the damaged lock before it can be loaded.

However, a number of possible barriers to this plan are being considered — such as overhead structures and bridges.

The damaged lock is approximately 50 nautical miles from Huntsville. The distance to a practical loading point over roads would be much greater.

Advantages of 'Golden Years' Are Outlined

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Old age has its advantages, says John Ise, professor emeritus of economics at the University of Kansas.

Addressing members of the Golden Medal Club, made up of alumni who graduated at least 50 years ago from the university, Ise said Sunday: "We can read the confession magazines and the scandalous books. We're beyond corruption. And if we are disillusioned we can read the Bible — like cramming for finals."

Ike Urges GOP to Hit J.F.K. Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged Republicans to go all out in their attacks on what he calls the "fiscal irresponsibility" of the Kennedy administration.

In recent conferences here, the former president painted for party leaders a grim picture of consequences he said could stem from an inflationary spiral touched off by government spending. He said the result could be similar to the economic crash of 1929.

Eisenhower found an approving audience among Republicans of all shades of opinions for his budget-balancing rally calls. But how much the GOP members could accomplish in this field remained problematical.

Rep. Ralph E. Miller, the party's new national chairman, conceded that President Kennedy is likely to get a "substantial portion" of his basic New Frontiers program through Congress.

Miller was asked by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., on a television program taped for New York stations Sunday if this was likely to put the government further in the red.

"Well," the chairman replied, "if his program is adopted for housing and for education and for depressed areas and for all these increases which he is proposing in the military and in economic aid and assistance, it's going to increase governmental expenditures in the next fiscal year well over $5 billion and would result, therefore, in a deficit of some $7 or $8 billion.

"This can result only in increased taxation or deficit spending which leads to inflation. There can't be any other answer to it."

In contrast to this, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, a former Eisenhower administration official, estimated the deficit for the year beginning July 1 at about $3.7 billion.

Dillon said on a television program with Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., the Kennedy administration is counting on a big increase in tax revenues eventually to balance the budget, take up the added costs of the New Frontiers' program and to open the way to a tax cut.
